Re: Letter of Recommendation

To Whom It May Concern:

It is with absolute confidence that I recommend Seeach Sod as an organization that caters to the needs of individuals with special needs. As a Monitor and Inspector for the Ministry of Education, I have observed and taken record of Seeach Sod's increasingly needed role in Jerusalem. Its development is in constant progress and its programming is reliable.

When the Ministry of Education began working with Seeach Sod, we were immediately impressed with the CEO, Rabbi Shimon Levy, and his devoted staff in how they combine their passion together with their immeasurable skills in supplying the community with comprehensive and highly competent programming.

Any organization that chooses to help support Seeach Sod is fortunate. I see how they are leading the community with expertise and they are a key nonprofit organization for the educational future of special needs children and adults in Israel.

Sincerely,

Avner Zaken
